V.F.W. Holiday Dinner To Celebrate Success Of Membership Drive

Ladies Auxiliary Will Serve
Turkey Dinner 7 P. M.
Mon. Dec. 20 th

If you should pass the Antioch Guild Hall anytime after 7:00 p. m. Monday evening, Dec. 20, please don't be alarmed by any groans of delight that may be emitting from the hall, for inside you will find Antioch VFW members pleasantly occupied and happy. They will be in the midst of a turkey feast, prepared and served by those culinary experts, the women of the VFW Ladies Auxiliary. The meal is to be a climax to the successful membership drive just completed. Membership chairman Richard Burnette informs us that the Antioch post is far ahead of the National and State averages for new members. He also states that he intends to start a new and bigger drive after the first of the year with the hope of making Sequoit post one of the largest VFW posts in the district.

Following the dinner at 8:30 p. m. the post will hold its regular business meeting. Many important matters will come up, one of which will be a report by Chairman Willard Schneider on the action of the "Ways and Means Committee" in setting up a 1949 schedule of events at a meeting in the Guild hall at 8:00 p. m. Friday, Dec. 17.

Cards will be played following the Dec. 20 meeting. All overseas veterans of Lake Villa and Antioch are cordially invited to attend this and all VFW meetings.

Army Inductions Postponed; Will Await New Order

Illinois Quota Cut To About One-Half
Schedule

All men who were scheduled to enter the armed forces on and after December 15th will not be inducted until a later date, according to information given out by State Director of Selective Service Colonel Paul G. Armstrong.

This means that many who expected to be in the army during the holidays will be able to remain at home.

Major General Lewis B. Hershey, Director of Selective Service, has advised all State Directors that at the request of the Department of the Army all physical examinations and inductions will be suspended on and after December 15.

To comply with this directive, all local boards affected in Illinois have been notified by telegrams and all registrants who were scheduled for physical examination or induction during December will be delayed and will be advised at a later date when the new schedule has been prepared by State Headquarters.

At the same time Colonel Armstrong advised that Illinois has received an adjusted induction call for the month of January. The quota originally allotted to the State of Illinois has now been reduced to 582, which is approximately one-half of the total originally scheduled.

Because of the new instructions for canceling inductions, the total number of men who will be inducted in Illinois will be considerably less than originally scheduled in December.

These Trying Days

Sequoits Whip Ela 43-28 Friday Eve.

Antioch's fighting Sequoit basketball team won its second victory of the season last Friday evening when they went out in front by almost a two-to-one score on the Ela floor at Lake Zurich. The windup of the game showed the local boys victors 43 to 28.

They will meet Wauconda here Friday evening, and comparative scores run up by both teams against common opponents show the locals to be a shade stronger—on paper—but as one fan said today, "You can't sometimes, always tell."

Two games will be played Friday with the curtain raiser scheduled to begin at 7:15.

To date the locals have lost 3 and won 2, having been defeated by Northbrook, Barrington and Bensenville, and having won from Ela and Grant.

The Sequoits will meet Palatine on Tuesday, Dec. 21, for the last conference game until after the holidays. This is the only game not scheduled for either a Friday or Saturday, but difficulties in arranging the schedule made it necessary to play the game on Tuesday evening.

Nativity Scene To Be Floodlighted At Holy Name Church

A floodlighted Nativity scene will be a Christmas feature at Holy Name church this holiday season, according to information furnished by the Rev. Father H. J. O'Connor, pastor at the Wilmet church.

In addition to the scene, Christmas carols will be played from the tower of the church through a powerful sound system each day during the last week before Christmas.

Mrs. Floyd Horton was hostess to the Willing Workers Wednesday. A pot luck dinner was served by the group at noon. The afternoon was spent in playing games and exchange of gifts.

Care Will Insure Proper Delivery Of Christmas Mail

Postmaster Roy I. Kufalk points out this week that careless addressing, spells trouble for the sender, as well as extra headaches for postal clerks at a season when they're already working around the clock to keep the holidays mails moving.

"Each year, thousands of long friendships suddenly turn chilly when an eagerly-awaited Christmas card or gift fails to arrive," he observes.

So if you want to keep your colorful and warm-hearted Christmas greetings from going to rest in the Dead Letter office this year, you'd better heed the Postmaster's detailed advice for Yuletide mailings.

"Mail promptly," he urges. All packages and all Christmas cards for out-of-state delivery should be in the post office by December 10, and all cards for local delivery should be mailed at least a week before Christmas.

"Affix stamps firmly. Don't just give stamps a lick and a pat—they may fall off en route."

"Address plainly and completely," he emphasizes. "That means the full name, house number, street, name of city, zone number, and the state."

"Remember, much holiday mail is delivered by emergency carriers who haven't the faintest idea where 'The Wilson Family' lives 'On Oak Street.' There may be even two or three different parts of one street."

"Don't put 'City' Write out 'Antioch, Ill.' If a Christmas card marked 'City' happens to slip into the wrong mail pouch, it may end up in the Dead Letter office."

The Postmaster recommends sending all Christmas cards by first-class mail which means with regular 3-cent stamps.

First class mail is entitled to "direct service" by skilled post office clerks who will try to trace down addressees who have moved since you mailed your Christmas cards last year.

Only first class mail will be forwarded from one address to the other or returned to the sender without collection of additional postage if the addressee is not located. It will come back, that is provided you make sure to place your return address on each Christmas card you mail.

However, if you decide to mail your Christmas cards with 1½-cent stamps—keep your tongue in your cheek and off that flap. Third class mail must not be sealed and must not contain personal messages, although a hand-written signature is permissible. Only one effort is made to deliver it and if the address is incorrect or incomplete, your cheerful but misdirected Christmas card will spend a lonely Yuletide in the Dead Letter office.

Not A Blank Check

A stranger reading the post-election discussion in the United States would think we elected a President for the principal purpose of serving the labor group, the farm group, the industrial group, or some other group that claimed he owed his success to it. As a matter of fact, we elect a President to serve all the people.

It is important to call the people's attention to this fact—and also to the fact that this election was not a directive to Congress to rubber stamp the acts of the President, because Congressmen generally received more votes than the President.

There has been a lot of loose talk to the effect that the election of Mr. Truman automatically meant a swing to the left in this country—a swing toward more socialization and regimentation of business, and more and more paternalism in government. Again, the facts do not justify such a belief by any Congressman or the President.

The failure of our people to poll a record vote in the last election indicates they felt no real choice in party platforms was offered them. Many thought it better to ride along than bring about a change with a candidate who both failed and refused to take issue with his opponent and who stood for no program in definite opposition to the Administration in power. The Republicans failed to nominate a fighting ticket and take a chance on the solid Americanism of the people. Will the Democrats in their victory fail to see that it was no mandate to swing to the left? If they do, they will have a surprise in store for them when the people get a chance to vote on that issue.

The vote was no blank check to either the President or Congress to play fast and loose with the resources of this nation, or to endorse socialistic measures which undermine the security of American labor, American enterprise, and the fullest freedom of action for all American citizens.

State Ownership Means Dictatorship

General Eisenhower, in his brilliant history of the war, "Crusade in Europe," describes a conversation he once had with a top Russian officer. He writes: "I tried to make him see the virtues of free enterprise. Firmly believing that without a system of free or competitive enterprise, individual political freedom cannot endure, I showed him that, as far as I was concerned, complete state ownership necessarily would involve complete dictatorship, and that the effort to escape all dictatorial rule was the reason for America's founding and growth."

The General was unable to convince his Russian counterpart, who seemed thoroughly sold on government-by dictation and had only contempt for free institutions. But what he said should be kept everlastingly in mind in this country, particularly at a time when forces which favor regimentation of industry and the individual, and virtually unlimited extension of the powers of the government, are using every conceivable technique to gain their ends. If anything on earth is true, it is that private ownership of property and private enterprise are the rock on which representative government of the people is based. Neither could long exist if the other were destroyed.

Throughout his book, General Eisenhower speaks of certain almost unique qualities which the American soldier possessed. These were the qualities of self-reliance, of the ability to improvise under difficulties, of individual initiative, of the talent for making the most of what they had to work and fight with. Those qualities were brought to the Army from civilian life, and they are typical of the American character. They—more than any material possession—have been responsible for building this nation in time of peace, and protecting it in time of war.

It may seem a small thing for the government to go into the electric power business and so force private enterprise out of that field in some state or region. But the big point is that such a precedent established can lead the way to more and more state ownership of other industries and resources, and more political domination of the individual—and that, as General Eisenhower said "would involve complete dictatorship."

It is not by chance that we have become the leader of the free nations of the world. It is the result of a philosophy of government which encouraged individual initiative.

When we surrender our individual property rights and opportunities to government, we follow in the wake of other peoples who have lost their freedom to dictators.

Retailers Agree

President Truman, in a telegram to a retailers' conference, said that the reduction of distribution costs is especially important today in order to help reduce prices and make the consumer's dollar go farther.

That point of view is fully shared by the great majority of the retailers of this country. And they haven't just paid it lip service. They have shown, by tangible and aggressive action, that no group is more aware of the dangers of inflation, and none is more eager to combat it to the limit of its abilities.

The policy of typical retailers, chain and independent alike, has been to reduce prices whenever possible, to resist price increases as long as possible, to avoid high-priced goods when suitable, lower-priced substitutes are available, and to hold down overhead and operating costs to the lowest practical level. They work on very small unit profits—and earn an adequate total profit through heavy volume. Their contribution to the economic welfare of this country is immeasurable.

Fewer New Auto Models

Because of the tremendous cost of retooling, it is expected that automobile manufacturers generally will make only minor changes in their models for several years. Present trend in new models stresses roomier interiors, greater riding comfort through improved spring action and higher compression engines.

You bet you can have Dynaflow on the Super!

LOOK this eye-filling smoothie over—and make note of the happy news:

It's the Buick SUPER for 1949—and you can have it in any of four body types, with that sensational engineering triumph, Dynaflow Drive.†

Now this sprightly stepper, too, has the drive in which oil does it all—as the climax of a long list of fresh features that make this the smashing buy of the season.

There's room, for instance—from gracious interiors where even the super-soft seats add space for hats and hairdos.

There's a view—and what a view!—from big, broad, full-curved windshields, narrower corner posts, one-piece rear windows—22% more glass area in 4-door Sedans.

†Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on SUPER models.

When better automobiles are built
BUICK will build them

There are doors that swing wider and with less effort—there are fine fabrics, rich fittings, interiors that sparkle with thoughtful touches.

And there's the soft sure-footedness of low-pressure tires. The extra safety and comfort of extra-wide rims. The fluent stride of all-coil springing—silky engine smoothness from Buick's exclusive Hi-Poised engine mountings.

A smoothie? This SUPER certainly is. On every score from its boldly fashioned grille to smoothly streamlined taillights and graceful, contoured bumpers.

Even the price tags are something to get excited about. Just look them over—see what they cover—match them against the field—and you'll head straight for the nearest Buick dealer to get your order in!

Abraham Lincoln Food
Train to Leave Dec. 22

Contributions are pouring in from all parts of Lake County for the Abraham Lincoln Christmas Food Train. Mr. R. J. Dwyer, treasurer for the County project, announces that up to date very close to $1000.00 has been received and reports are that many sizable gifts are coming in from schools and churches, and other organizations.

This is an effort, sponsored by the Christian Rural Overseas Program, known as CROP, to collect food commodities to send to the needy people of both Asia and Europe. It is hoped that a total of 2,500 carloads will be collected, and Illinois alone is sending 300 carloads.

The train from Illinois will be dedicated at Champaign and go to the New Orleans port. It is possible that the Wisconsin train will pass through this area.

Rev. Paul Turk, Libertyville, who is acting as County Chairman, said today, "We are greatly gratified by the number of individuals who have given for this project. Contributions are just beginning to come in from the organizations, and Ray Nicholas, County Farm Advisor, believes that a goodly number of the farmers have donated hundreds of pounds of milk. This money will be collected from the dairies. The time is short but there is still time to rush your gift to Mr. R. J. Dwyer, Mundelein, Illinois, if you wish to help.

Tungsten Carbide

Before the war, says a Twentieth Century Fund survey, cartel agreements increased the price of tungsten carbide, an alloy of diamond-like hardness used on the cutting edges of high-speed machine tools, 800 per cent over the prevailing price in the United States market in 1927. Its market value was 1.5 times the value of gold.

George Simon Ohm

German physicist George Simon Ohm (1789-1854) formulated in 1827 the law of electrical resistance that underlies all modern electrical theory and measurement. Science scoffed at him for 15 years. Recognition brought him out of long retirement and into overwork that hastened his death.

Kathleen Gindick Played Lead in University Drama

Kathleen Gindick, 18, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. M. H. Gindick, Lake Villa, recently played the lead in the University's drama group, Illini Theatre Guild's production, "Mary Jones." Miss Gindick is a sophomore student at the University of Illinois in the college of liberal arts and sciences in the pre-journalism curriculum. She is a member of Phi Sigma Sigma social sorority.

Miss Gindick transferred from the University of Wisconsin this semester and likes the University of Illinois for its many varied activities. She is active in many campus organizations. She worked on publicity for the operas, "Savitri" and "La Serva Perdona" presented by the Theatre Guild last month. Miss Gindick also sparked the Campus Chest drive, comparable to a Community Chest drive, by speaking at the various fraternity and sorority houses. She was interviewed on the University radio station, WILL, about her views on the situation of school children in Germany. Miss Gindick plans to major in the radio curriculum of the journalism school.

HELLO FOLKS!

By Ray Cobb

Seems as if we're never quite caught up enough to get this column in on time. So please excuse our absence the past two weeks. We're a reformed character now and promise to be on time from now on.

On December 4 the Antioch Legion Post Rifle squad sponsored a dance at The Castle on 173. Bessie Barnes and her orchestra furnished the music. We had a fairly large crowd and everyone seemed to be having lots of fun. Votes were taken on the homeliest man and the prettiest girl. Bert Jordan took the legion cream pie which was presented to him for being the homeliest man. A local farm wife won the box of divinity fudge which was awarded the prettiest girl.

Legion Post 748 is giving a party December 19 at the Legion Home on Ida avenue for the children of the Post, assisted by Auxiliary members. This promises to be lots of fun for the kiddies. Old Santa Claus is expected to put in an appearance with gifts for all the children. Games will be played. A pot luck dinner will be served around five o'clock and all you Legion members are invited to attend with your family. Santa is also expected to show up on Main street to take all the orders you kids have to give him. So be looking for him.

Something new and quite nice, by the way, is a plan to open the "Legion Club." This will be located in the Legion Home in the basement. The bar will be open for business and there will be a juke box for all you hep cats to jive to. There will be shuffle board to play, and all in all, it's really a nice place to go. Being decorated now, the club will open officially soon, so be watching for the announcement.

Army Role of Pickles
Uncle Sam's men in uniform are eating pickles at the rate of more than a dozen pints of pickles per man per year. It has been estimated that the armed forces are consuming many more pickles than spinach and baked beans combined. Government nutritionists have long recognized the role pickles play in pepping up plain food and supplying important quantities of vitamins A, B and C.

Nature of Virus
Viruses are complete parasites, living at the expense of living host cells, but the chemical and metabolic processes by which viruses reproduce themselves at the expense of the cells are unknown.

Wool Producing Countries
Five principal wool producing countries of the southern hemisphere are Australia, Argentina, New Zealand, the Union of South Africa, and Uruguay.

Consumption of Fish
More than a billion pounds of fish and fishery products are used for food in the United States each year.

Klondike Kate, At 68, Is Happy On Oregon Farm

SALEM, ORE. — Klondike Kate, at 68, has settled down near busy Pacific highway, 12 miles south of here, to think back on the wild days when she dazzled bearded prospectors and earned a lasting reputation as the Belle of the Yukon.

Kate Rockwell, the daughter of a Spokane (Wash.) judge, has moved to a 12 acre farm with her third husband, W. L. Van Buren, a retired accountant. She came here from Bend, Ore., where she had operated a nursing home since she came down from the northland.

Kate and her new husband plan to build a home on their little tract, a house of simulated logs "for atmosphere only."

"We will be just as comfortable as any of these cheechacos," said the lady sourdough, who once made as much as $750 a night dancing for and with eager miners, trappers and hunters in the Alaskan gold rush days.

Kate went north in 1900 in boy's clothing when she was 20 years old. She joined a vaudeville troupe and in a short while she was undisputed queen of the Yukon.

Dollar a Dance

Sourdoughs paid a dollar a dance in those days and the girls received 25 cents of the dollar and got a cut on the drinks. The girls drank iced tea, wore high necked shirtwaists and skirts to the ground.

"They were very decorous," Kate explained.

The Yukon proved to be a bonanza for the little Spokane girl with golden hair and an Irish smile. She financed Alexander Pantages' first theater venture and performed in his first vaudeville show. Pantages became a successful west coast theater owner and producer.

It was in 1900 that the queen of the Yukon met bashful Johnny Mattson, on Christmas eve. Johnny a trapper and miner, fell in love with Kate, but it took him 33 years to propose. When he did, Kate accepted.

But meantime she had met, married and divorced Floyd Warren, a handsome cowboy, after a courtship by correspondence.

Wed a Second Time.

Johnny and Kate were married in Vancouver, B. C., on July 14, 1933. After the wedding Johnny went back to his claim, 100 miles from Dawson, Yukon territory. Kate returned to Bend, where friends changed her name from Klondike Kate to Aunt Kate.

Johnny and Kate met in Dawson once a year and twice a year he wrote to her. In October, 1940, Kate became worried because Johnny's usual letter failed to arrive. She instigated a search and a trapper found the 83-year-old sourdough dead on a frozen trail seven miles from his lonely cabin.

Kate had flown to Dawson and was there when the news arrived. She returned to Bend, sad and lonely. She had known Van Buren for several years and when she was 68 the two were married in Vancouver, Wash.

They moved to their home here and settled down for a quiet life.

The call of the wild has died to a whisper as far as Kate is concerned.

Forgetful Housewives Build Up Laundry's Stockpile

OMAHA, NEB.—Omaha residents are losing their shirts and quite a little other clothing at the new self-service laundrettes.

A survey revealed that forgotten items are piling up at the laundries, left there by forgetful patrons.

Clothing is not the only item left behind by the customers, a laundrette manager said.

"They leave tablecloths, towels, rugs, shirts, ladies' unmentionables, dish rags and mop heads."

Another laundrette reported that one woman overlooked a sheet in the washer. It is still unclaimed.

Enough clothing to outfit one person completely is found in the course of a month at one Omaha establishment.

The operators have a hard time matching up the articles and owners. There is no identification on the forgotten wash and the laundrettes don't keep any record of who uses the machines.

Ruins of Indian Village Are Unearthed in Oklahoma

OKLAHOMA CITY.—The ruins of a small village believed to have flourished between 400 and 800 years ago have been unearthed in this state.

The ruins were excavated by a University of Oklahoma party. A cone-shaped mound, believed to be a tribal burial place, was found in the center of the village and ruins of at least five or six huts have been uncovered.

Since some of the houses were built above others, Bell believes the village was ancient. The houses were built by setting poles 12 to 15 inches apart in the ground, weav-

Hobo King Cautions Youths That Freights Are Too Tough Today

CHICAGO.—Jeff Davis, 66-year-old international king of the hobos, advised youngsters to "stay tied to your mother's apron strings."

"It don't do any good to try and flip a freight today, anyway," he said. "They've made these new trains doggone near impossible to ride."

Davis said his organization, the International Knights of the Road, has spent most of its efforts lately in trying to keep youngsters off the road.

"Whenever I talk to a bunch of kids, I tell them to stay at home," he said. "I tell them to stay tied to their mother's apron strings. You know, once those strings get broke, all the thread in the world ain't going to sew them together again."

"On my last trip I hit clean out to the coast and then hit back to Washington where we got a lobby. I asked the big guys at Washington which they thought was cheaper—to spend a little money to show kids this country or to have them hit the road on their own and maybe end up in jail."

He said he thought the kids ought to be sent as guests of the nation to see the sights of the nation, then they would be more likely to stay at home afterward.

"It's not encouraging to hit the road today," he sighed. "You can't ride the trains like you used to. I've traveled around the world six times and gone more than three million miles. Of all that traveling I only paid for about 100,000 miles."

"I've flipped a lot of trains in my day," he said, "but you can't do it on these modern trains."

Poultry Disposal

Poultry that has died from disease or been killed because of sickness should be buried deeply or burned to prevent spread of the disease.

ing brush and limbs through the poles and then plastering the structure with a sort of adobe mixture similar to that used by the Navajos of today. Roofs of the houses were thatched.

Prankster's 'For Sale' Sign Gets Good Results

VALPARAISO, IND.—Somebody played a joke on Wilbur White while he was out of town. It started the telephone at the Valparaiso First National bank ringing about every five minutes.

The bank president, Paul Nuppnau, said some one posted a "for sale" sign on the White home. The sign placed the sale price at the rather low figure of $6,500 and said details could be obtained by dialing a certain number.

The number was that of the bank. The telephone rang every five minutes for several days, Nuppnau said.

Finally, he said he went out to the house to erase the telephone number and then sat back patiently for White's return. The sign went down when the home owner saw it.

New Yorkers Boo as Hitler's Car Is Unloaded at Pier

NEW YORK.—A chorus of hisses and boos greeted a special automobile, built on specifications ordered by Adolf Hitler, as it was swung to the pier from the hold of the liner Stockholm.

The black, 9,500-pound touring car, capable of speeds up to 135 miles an hour, is owned by Christopher G. Janus of Chicago, managing director of Eximport Associates, incorporated. He says it "looks as big as a house."

Designed by Hitler and manufactured by Mercedes-Benz, the car was given by Hitler to Field Marshal Mannerheim of Finland. Shortly after the Russians entered Finland it was sent to Stockholm. There Janus bought it in a barter deal. The machine has adjustable armor-plate and bullet-proof glass.

Janus, at the pier to receive the car, said he would drive it to Chicago.

"I don't know what I am going to do with it," he said. "I have been trying for 18 months to get a car in the United States; it took just 30 days to buy Hitler's." Janus declined to name the dollar value of the ball bearings for which the car was exchanged.

Railroaders' English Stumps Professors but Not Brakemen

SPRINGFIELD, ILL.—The car told the head shack and the hog head that something was wrong on the crummy so that Annie was delayed a few hours.

Confused? You well might be—unless you're a railroader.

These are just a few of the slang phrases used by railroad men. The sentence means: The car inspector told the brakeman and the engineer that something was wrong on the caboose so the Ann Rutledge train was delayed a few hours.

Although most of the train nicknames have been replaced by numbers, railroaders still refer to the "Annie" and the "Abe" instead of the Ann Rutledge and Abraham Lincoln trains running between Springfield and St. Louis and the "Doodlebug" traveling between Springfield and Beardstown.

Other railroad lingo terms are: the yardmaster, a "dinger"; the switchmen, "snake" or "stingers," depending on their union affiliate; an engine not equipped with an automatic stoker, "armstrong"; an engine and caboose only, "caboose bounce," and an attentive telegraph operator, "dispatcher's delight."

P.T.A. Council Holds Its Second Meeting

The Lake County Council of Parents and Teachers held its second meeting of the year on Monday night, December 6, at the Lincoln school, Mundelein with Mrs. Ivan Sengenberger, president, presiding. Nineteen local units were represented, with an attendance of 65. The hosts for the evening were the Mundelein PTA and Lake Zurich PTA. Mr. John Hodge led the Grand Community High school Glee Club in a Christmas Music program. The Glee club sang "As It Fell On A Night," "The Sleigh," "Come All Ye Faithful," "The Holly and the Ivy," "Carol of the Bells" and Fred Waring's arrangement of "Twas the Night Before Xmas."

Mrs. Ivan Sengenberger introduced Mrs. Lawrence Franks, president of Lake Zurich PTA and Mr. Albert Kroll, principal of Lincoln school, who gave the welcome.

Mrs. Lester Kepper, council radio chairman, reported on the 12th Annual School Broadcast Conference which she attended in Chicago recently. Then Mrs. Kepper played the recording of the interview at WKRS with Mrs. Enevold. Mrs. Enevold, council parliamentarian, was questioned on the Parliamentary procedure of the Illinois Congress.

A nominating committee was elected as follows: Mrs. Wesley Bonniwell, Miss Nita Benedict and Mrs. Millard Proctor.

Miss Miriam Browning, WKRS commercial and continuity writer, spoke on the value on local news on a local station and invited the PTA to give interesting news.

Mrs. Enevold presented the certificate to those who completed the parliamentary course which she taught in Waukegan High school. Twenty-two completed the course. Mrs. Joseph May then presented Mrs. Enevold with a certificate in recognition for teaching the class.

Mrs. George Schroeder, program chairman, introduced the group chairmen and the members selected which group to attend. After the discussions, Mrs. May suggested that the PTA members find out how much home work was being required in the schools and a report made to the council. Miss Benedict said that the members correspond with the writers of a number of letters she has on hand, in this way she felt that writing about the PTA and our way of life would do much to enlighten those people.

The next council meeting will be Central school, Libertyville and the Beach school PTA and Bonnie Brook PTA hosts.

Plan House Around Family, Not Fashion, Says N. U. Expert

So you're going to build a house! Well, before consulting an architect, or looking over dozens of available blueprints, heed the sound advice of a home-planning expert at Northwestern University: make the house secondary to the family unit.

Mrs. Dorothy Clark Bohnen, instructor in home-planning in the home economics department, warns against selecting a home just because it would be as elegant as the Joneses' down the street, or in a period of architecture which is currently fashionable, just because it is fashionable.

Expert Bohnen, in teaching Northwestern coeds the basic principles in home planning, she asserts, that, other than family income and the occupation of the head of the house, the following factors should be considered: family history; possessions and interests of the family; extent of home entertaining; cooking and dining interests and needs; home requirements of individual family members; the use of the home by others than the immediate family, such as weekend guests; domestic help, if any; and gardening, pets and garage facilities. Even the family's stored-up pet peeves and hidden longings deserve consideration in home-planning, she asserts.

Along with satisfying the physical, cultural, and recreational needs of the family unit, the house should also reflect the inhabitants' heritage. Rather a home which expresses the family's national characteristics, such as Scandinavian, Celtic, etc., than one which merely copies an attractive dwelling designed for someone else and illustrated in the magazines and Sunday supplements, Mrs. Bohnen insists. And a wife should make the needs of her husband and children paramount in home-planning decisions, not her own expression of vanity, Mrs. Bohnen advises.

Suppose the husband is a traveling salesman, away from home a great deal. He is not as likely as is a clergyman to need a study as an integral part of the house.

Take the matter of books. Some families buy them as part of the interior decor, for their colors and beautiful bindings. Other families, to whom reading is a real part of daily living, need a different sort of library set-up, one which lends itself to good lighting, appropriate arrangement of furniture, and shelf-after-shelf for ready access and filing.

If it's for a family of music lovers, perhaps the projected home would have to be constructed with a special room having fine acoustics. Maybe the music facilities, instead of being part of the house where all the family congregates, should be isolated, in order not to disturb the one member who, indifferent to Beethoven, likes to paint or draw without the disturbing bass notes of a symphony orchestra.

In her teaching, Mrs. Bohnen utilizes a wide variety of graphic charts, one of which illustrates the problem of family dining habits in their relation to home-building. "Dog wagon" meals may spread from one room to another; polite meals usually are confined to one room, "occasions," such as buffet suppers, teas, etc., also would extend from one room to another; and garden dining would extend from the lawns into still more areas of the total home.

And what about children's play? If yours is the type of family which doesn't mind having youngsters play all over the house, style your home for such razzle-dazzle. If, on the other hand, yours is the kind of family which prefers to rear children in their own play quarters, keeping "adult" sectors of the dwelling free from tricycles and construction sets, be sure to include adequate play space, perhaps in the basement or in a special room for the purpose. If it's a family whose adult members are ping-pong enthusiasts, or devotees of other games which classify as "rumpus," be certain to make provision for such group activity when you plan your house.

When Monks Were Printers
The words, "font of type," are derived from the fact that back in early days when printing was done mostly by monks, they found that a very efficient receptacle for holding the type was the baptismal font.

Uncle Sam Says

One of my nephews, Assistant Secretary of the United States Treasury Edward H. Foley, made a few remarks the other day which are worth the attention and action of all my other nieces and nephews. In talking about buying Savings Bonds through the payroll savings plan, he said: "Workers are doing themselves a favor when they increase their take-home savings. The man who has saved up a reserve has a sense of security which the man who lives from hand to mouth can never know. He gets more out of life. He can take today as it comes, rather than spend it worrying about tomorrow." The same reasoning applies not only to Americans on somebody's payroll but to the millions of men and women who earn their living as doctors, lawyers and independent business men who can arrange for regular purchases of Savings Bonds at their banks.

Macnamara Elected Secy. of Lake Co. Tuberculosis Assn.

Dr. Theo. S. Proxmire, president of the Lake County Tuberculosis Association, announced the appointment of Charles C. Macnamara as the new Executive Secretary of the association at a meeting of the Executive Committee Monday, Dec. 6. He succeeds Miss Orpha L. White who recently passed away.

In announcing the appointment, Dr. Proxmire said Macnamara is a graduate of the University of Illinois and served in the Amphibious Forces of the Navy in the Pacific theater during the war. He worked for the Illinois Department of Public Health before becoming interested in tuberculosis work and has attended the orientation course for tuberculosis workers sponsored by the National Tuberculosis Association in New York. Married, he is the father of a five months old son.

Macnamara has been working in Lake County since Miss White's death and has been busy with the mass chest x-ray survey held recently in Round Lake and currently in Waukegan as well as other work of the association.

When contacted, he announced the total receipts from the Christmas Seal Sale had reached $20,396.56 up to the end of the third week. The sale will continue until Christmas. "This is better than one third of our goal of $42,000.00 which is the minimum necessary to carry on our 1949 program of x-ray surveys both in industry and the communities of Lake County, the school tuberculosis testing program and the general health education programs of the county, and the free chest clinic," he said, "but we are slightly ahead of last year's total for the same date."

Jewelry Prices Cut

People are still buying fine jewelry, as distinguished from costume pieces, but prices today are half what they were two years ago, special order jewelers report. To cut costs, more extensive use is being made of the new platinum metal palladium. Because it holds diamonds and other important gems securely, palladium is being increasingly used as settings.

Salmon Travels 1,300 Miles

A red salmon, marked by the U. S. bureau of fisheries in Alaskan waters in May, and caught 44 days later in a Siberian stream, was found to have traveled 1,300 miles in that time.

Fireproof Your Tree, Avoid Fire Hazards

Want a safe holiday season with no Christmas tree fires? You can be protected if you fire-proof your tree by feeding it an ammonium-sulfate solution, or you can do almost as good a job with just plain water.

Either is easy to do at home, says University of Illinois College of Agriculture foresters. Here's what you do, says Bob Rennels, extension forester:

Get a freshly cut tree, weight it, and measure out 1 pound of ammonium sulfate for every 4 pounds of tree weight. You can get the chemical at most seed and fertilizer stores.

Then mix 1 1/2 pints of water with each pound of ammonium sulfate, and pour the mixture into a narrow-mouth jar, about two-quart size.

Next saw off the trunk in a slanting or V-shaped cut at least an inch from the stump end. Set the trunk in the solution at once, and put it in a cool place away from direct sunlight. It will take about 4-6 days for the tree to absorb the chemical solution and become fire-proof.

Or you can make the cut in the same way, but stand the tree in plain water instead. Be sure to keep the water level above the cut part as long as the tree is in the house, though. You might even "plant" the tree in a bucket of sand and pour water over the sand.

These fire precautions will work best on freshly cut trees, but they also apply to shipped-in trees which may have dried out en route.

The point is to keep your tree well-watered or see that it absorbs a full "drink" of ammonium-sulfate solution. Then you'll eliminate flame-happy Christmas trees during the holiday season.

New York City 'Catch'

A huge mastodon tooth, six and one-half inches long, three and one-half inches wide, and weighing three and three-quarter pounds, was dredged from the ocean near New York City.

Location of Wooden Shelves

Wooden shelves should not be placed above a stove or heater; but if this is unavoidable they should be carefully protected on the under side from the heat. Such shelves are particularly dangerous if covered with paper.

Lady Liberty

Lady Liberty—the girl who holds the torch above New York harbor—has reached the venerable old age of 62 years. She is gowned in copper, which time and weather have colored green. The copper, however, is a mere shell, no thicker than a silver dollar. Sea winds would blow it away if it were not firmly fastened to the girdle of iron and steel which lies beneath. Lady Liberty was a gift from France to the United States, and was designed by the same Gustav Eiffel who did the Eiffel tower.

Early Cotton Machine

Early in the 19th century a machine was widely used in the South which by the operation of a single crank ginned, carded and spun simultaneously six threads of cotton.

Radioactive Stockpiles

Atomic piles in Oak Ridge and elsewhere are making available to all branches of research a supply of radioactive materials that promises to speed the solution of many current medical as well as chemical problems.

Cereal Makers Offer Premiums To Boost Sales

NEW YORK.—Getting the small fry to eat more cereal once was strictly a parent's chore.

Today it's a multi-million-dollar business.

Junior's stake in the project goes far beyond mere nourishment. For him, the rewards are premiums that reflect his up to the minute interests in the atomic age: "Atom bomb" rings, jet plane models, pilot's goggles. All he needs are a few box tops and an occasional dime or quarter.

At the same time, the project means fat contracts for advertising men and novelty makers; work for radio actors and comic strip artists; endorsement payments for sports stars.

And for the people who make the ready to eat cereals, of course, the reward is sales—an estimated 175 million dollars worth annually.

The breakfast food industry has been using premiums for more than a quarter of a century. In the early days, the lures were mostly small pictures of birds or movie favorites. Now they reflect the changing times.

Many Different Premiums.

The energetic young cereal eater and box top collector of recent months could, with his prizes, fingerprint the whole neighborhood, develop his own snapshots, perform feats of magic, or set up complete circuses or frontier villages of cardboard.

He could adorn himself with aviator's helmets, beanie caps, cowboy spurs, badges, bracelets and any number of assorted rings.

One of the rings offered was called a "pirate's gold detector." Another could be used for signaling at night. An "explorer's ring" contained a compass and sun dial under a plastic dome and was identical in principle to the timepieces carried by military men during the American revolution.

There were pedometers to tell the kids how far they walk in a day; a putt-putt noise attachment for bicycles; comic books, binoculars, sports pamphlets, money belts.

And, of course, the perennial favorites: Bird pictures again, photos of celebrities and false face cut-outs.

Repeat Popular Items

As one premium specialist put it: "Every other year or so, when the new crop of youngsters comes along, we can repeat many of these things again, generation after generation, as sure as the kites and skipping ropes that blossom in the spring."

So far, however, the No. 1 headliner for the kids was that atom bombing ring. When you put your eye close to the plastic bomb, you could see a radiant substance inside that sparkled as if alive. More than three million children sent 15 cents and a box top for that one.

Premium giving is as old as history. Frank Waggoner, a New York trade publication editor who has written college textbooks on the subject, says one of the earliest premiums on record was a medal given to natives of Pompeii who attended the baths. That would be about the middle of the first century A. D.

East Coast Fishermen Boost Herring Catches for Europe

BLOCK ISLAND, R. I.—The fish in Block Island sound are feeling the effects of the European Recovery plan.

Millions of herring—left undisturbed in the past for lack of a market—are being caught to feed the hungry abroad. Huge trailers are carrying the silvery, foot-long fish to canning factories on the eastern shore of Maryland and to Maine.

Carl Johnson, veteran fishing captain, explained they had been in the sound for years. "But," he said, "this is the first year we've handled them. The large majority are canned for the new type of lend-lease for Europe. We're trying to knock a couple of billion dollars off the Marshall plan figures."

More than 3½ million pounds of herring have been caught since the run started. Large balloon nets dragged along the shore bottom are used to snare them. The best place to find the herring is from three to nine miles out.

The herring found the sound a good place to escape whales.

Postoffice Tries to Deliver Letter Written in 1882

DETROIT.—The postoffice is trying to deliver a letter written in 1882 to a Detroit woman.

The brittle, faded letter was found behind an old mantel in a Cleveland house being remodeled. It was addressed to Mrs. H. R. Leonard, 65 Stimpson place, Detroit.

The letter said, "John has had a fever for two days now and I am afraid he is going to be sick," and was signed "Hattie."

Postoffice officials admitted it would be difficult to deliver the 66-year-old letter because there no longer is a "65 Stimpson place" in Detroit and the city engineer's office doubts if there ever was.

Courtesy Important In Sending Out Your Cards at Christmas

The exchange of cheerful Christmas cards between friends is one of our most delightful Yuletide customs and like all other social relationships, it is governed by simple, common-sense rules of etiquette.

You may properly send your holiday greetings to almost everyone—business and professional associates, if you wish, as well as social acquaintances and relatives.

Be sure to choose appropriate cards, however. If Aunt Jennie is a garden enthusiast, she'll probably appreciate a beautiful flower print more than a dozen Santa Claus designs.

Special Titles

Cards with special titles, such as "Merry Christmas, Mother," are available for mothers, wives, sweethearts and practically all relatives, including the in-laws, and are a mark of individual thoughtfulness.

If you can spare a moment or two, pen a brief holiday note on each card. It adds a warm sincerity and a touch of your individual personality to your Yuletide greetings.

Christmas time is a sentimental and nostalgic season for everyone, and many a friendship has been kept alive through the years by the annual exchange of holiday greetings.

Colored ink is entirely proper both for signing the card and addressing the envelope, provided it harmonizes with the color scheme of the card itself.

Signatures need not be formal, except on engraved Christmas cards. You may have your name neatly printed if you wish, or take your pen in hand and sign the greetings yourself with a holiday flourish.

"Mr. and Mrs." Married couples may omit the "Mr. and Mrs." if they prefer and sign their cards simply "Paul and Jenny Wilson." Either the husband's name or the wife's may appear first. Children in the family rate a place in the signature, too.

In addressing the envelopes, it is best to send one card to a husband and wife, and separate cards to other adult members of the family too. As an alternative, one card may be mailed to the whole family if you are careful to write the names of each individual on the envelope, including the children.

Use three-cent stamps for your Christmas cards, following the rule of good taste which says that first-class friends deserve first-class mail. It is entirely proper to write your return address on the envelope, to help friends keep tab on change of address.

Selecting attractive Christmas cards for each of your friends is a delightful pre-Christmas activity. Don't treat it as a sober social responsibility. Plunge in with a smile and the gay holiday scenes on the cards will soon fill your heart with Yuletide cheer and sentiment.

Here's How To Get The Most From The Christmas Turkey

Make the most of your investment in a Christmas turkey by giving the bird the best oven treatment the experts can suggest.

To roast it right, cook it slowly on a rack in an open pan without adding any water. That's the advice of Miss Grace Armstrong, foods and nutrition specialist, University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

Miss Armstrong suggests that you cover the top and sides of the bird with a fat-moistened cloth to keep the skin from getting dry and from browning too fast. Or you may brush the skin with unsalted fat to keep it from blistering.

Start the bird roasting by placing it breast side down on the rack, then, when it's about three-fourths done, turn it breast up to brown it.

If you don't have a temperature table for roasting the turkey, here's what is recommended for different-sized birds: Roast a 6-to 9-pound turkey in a 325° F. oven for 2½ to 3 hours. A 10- to 13-pound turkey should be roasted at 300° F. for 3 to 4 hours and a 14-17-pound turkey at 275° F. for 4½ to 5½ hours.

It's usually a problem to tell just when the turkey is done, but here's some help on that score: Press the fleshy part of the drumstick with your fingers; use a cloth or paper to protect your fingers. If the meat feels soft, it's done.

Here's another test: Try moving the drumstick up and down. If the leg joint gives readily or breaks, the bird is ready for the trip to the table.

Bright New Africa

Africa is on the verge of the greatest strides forward in its history. Tremendous schemes of agrarian and industrial development are changing the face of large areas of the continent, and schemes for social betterment, improved education and health services bring the promise of better days for the Africans. The days when Africa was the "dark continent" are gone.

Only Two Weeks Left In Which To Apply For Refund On Income Tax

Only two weeks remain for next-of-kin of men who have died in service since the start of World War II to make application for refunds on income taxes paid by the deceased serviceman.

The deadline for such applications, the Illinois Veterans Commission warned today, is January 1, 1949.

Such refunds are collectable under Public Law 367 passed by the 80th Congress. This law provides that survivors of deceased veterans who died in service at any time after Dec. 7, 1941, and whose estates were relieved of income tax liability for the taxable year of his death and any prior year, may claim refund of any overpayment of such tax.

Survivors of veterans dying in service since Dec. 7, 1941 should contact the nearest office of the Internal Revenue Department to determine eligibility and to secure the necessary form.

Painting Dark Woodwork

When painting dark woodwork white, first apply a coat of stain sealer to prevent the dark stain from "bleeding through" the new coat of light paint.
